The Engaging Global Challenges Conference on Women, Voting and Representation Presents:

Ensuring Women’s Rights in Post-Crisis Efforts and Constitutions: Strategies from the Local to the Transnational

Co-sponsored public event by Agnes Scott College and the International Solidarity Network Women Living Under Muslim Laws (WLUM)

Join us on Zoom Tuesday, September 22, 2020
10:00 am to 11:15 am EST

Zoom Meeting Link

Our Panelists:

Aili Mari Tripp, Wangari Maathai Professor of Political Science and Gender and Women’s Studies, University of Wisconsin–Madison

Palwasha Kakar, Senior Program Officer, Religion and Inclusive Societies, United States Institute of Peace

Hekma Yagoub, Human Rights Lawyer, Sudan and UK

Welcomed by Homa Hoodfar, Prof. of Anthropology and WLUM Executive Board Member

Moderated by Mona Tajali, Assistant Professor of IR & WGSS, Agnes Scott College and WLUM Board Member

Revolutions and political upheavals offer important opportunities for women’s rights groups to make history by organizing collective actions in demand for gender-equitable laws and constitutions which affords women full citizenship and equality. Domestic women’s rights groups however are rarely alone in such struggles, and often form ties beyond their borders with transnational women’s movements to learn about other countries’ experiences.

This panel, composed of experts and practitioners in the area of post-conflict reconstruction and constitutional reform from the Middle East and Africa, will present a comparative analysis of some of the recent and on-going local and transnational strategies for ensuring greater respect for women’s political rights.